Quick Review of Terminology

- Premium - the monthly amount you pay for your insurance plan(s).
- Deductible - the amount of money you pay before your insurance starts to cover healthcare costs.
- Co-pay - a fixed dollar amount you pay when you go for an appointment/procedure. For example, $20 for an office visit with a primary care provider.
- Coinsurance - the cost sharing amount you pay as part of your coverage. For example, if your plan covers at 80/20% your coinsurance is 20%.
- MOOP - the maximum out of pocket you pay during a benefit period.
Quick Review of Terminology

• Benefit period- A benefit period begins the day you're admitted as an inpatient in a hospital or SNF. The benefit period ends when you haven't received any inpatient hospital care (or skilled care in a SNF) for 60 days in a row. If you go into a hospital or a SNF after one benefit period has ended, a new benefit period begins. You must pay the inpatient hospital deductible for each benefit period. There's no limit to the number of benefit periods.

• Lifetime reserve - the 60 non-renewable extra days for which the Medicare will pay over and above the 90 covered days of hospitalization during a benefit period.

• Formulary- the list of prescription drugs covered by a prescription drug plan. Also called a drug list.

MEDICARE DOES NOT COVER ALL HEALTHCARE COSTS!
What is Open Enrollment?

- The time each year when individuals covered by traditional Medicare can make additions or changes to their coverage.
- The changes include adding more coverage, changing insurance providers or changing types of coverage.
- Medicare open enrollment runs from October 15th-December 7th.
- New coverage elections begin on January 1, 2015.

What does Medicare Part A Cost: A Breakdown

- PART A-Premium
  - No premium if individual/spouse has work history
  - If no work history, monthly premium is $407
  - This premium cost is trending down ($440 in 2013; $426 in 2014)

- Part A-Deductible (Inpatient Hospital)
  - $1260 for each benefit period
  - Days 1-60: $0 coinsurance per benefit period
  - Days 61-90: $315 coinsurance per day of each benefit period
  - Days 91 and beyond: $630 coinsurance per each "lifetime reserve day" after day 90 for each benefit period (up to 60 days over your lifetime)
  - Beyond lifetime reserve days: individual is responsible for all costs
What does Medicare Part B Cost: A Breakdown

- Part B- Premium
  - For MOST people $104.90 per month

- Part B- Deductible
  - $147 per year

- Part B-Coinsurance
  - Individual pays 20% of the Medicare approved amount for most doctor services, outpatient therapy and durable medical equipment
  - No cost for Medicare approved LAB services
  - No cost for home health services
  - No MOOP

What does Medicare Part D Cost: A Breakdown

- Part D-Premium
  - Varies by plan
  - Higher income = Higher premium

- Part D-Deductible
  - Varies by plan
  - No plan can have a deductible greater than $320

- Part D-Coinsurance and Copays
  - Varies by plan and by tier
  - Varies by coverage period
    - Initial
    - Doughnut Hole
    - Catastrophic
What is Covered by Parts A and B?

Part A
- Inpatient care in hospitals
- Skilled nursing facility care (SNF)
- Hospice
- Home health care

Part B
- Doctor/healthcare provider visits
- Outpatient care
- Home health care
- Durable medical equipment
- Outpatient mental health treatment
- Preventive services

What is NOT covered by Medicare A & B

- Long term care
- Custodial care
- Private duty homecare
- Routine dental/eye care
- Dentures
- Most prescription medications
- Cosmetic surgery
- Acupuncture
- Hearing aids
Other Important Facts About Medicare A & B Coverage

• You can go to any doctor/hospital as long as they are participating Medicare providers.
• You do not need to choose a primary care doctor.
• You do not need referrals to see a specialist, but the specialist must also be a participating Medicare provider.
What is a Medigap/Supplemental Plan?

- These policies fill the gap by covering costs/expenses left by traditional Medicare part A and B coverage.
- These policies are sold by private insurance companies.
- You are responsible for monthly Medigap premiums.
- Your plan cannot be cancelled UNLESS you do not pay.
- Cost of plan is dependent on the type of plan elected as well as pre-existing conditions and medical underwriting.
- Does not ALWAYS include Part D/prescription coverage (some plans bundle Medigap and Part D).
- It is always best to purchase a gap plan when first eligible (initial coverage period).
- Federal law does not require insurance companies to sell Medigap policies to individuals under 65; thought some state laws trump the Federal mandates.

Do Medigap Plans Cover Pre-Existing Conditions?

• It depends
  • Under Federal law, the plan may impost a six month waiting period for Medigap coverage of pre-existing conditions unless:
    • The individual is entitled to a guaranteed-issue right because s/he lost certain types of other coverage.
    • The individual purchased a Medigap plan during open enrollment period and had coverage for at least six months prior to purchasing the Medigap plan and have had this coverage within the last 63 days.
    • The plan can charge higher premiums for those with a pre-existing condition if plan is not purchased during initial coverage period.
Tips When Shopping for a Medigap Plan

- Buy early (i.e. during your initial enrollment period) for best cost and plan options.
- Shop around, compare quotes and plans.
- Guesstimate possible medical costs to help determine what type of gap plan you need.
- If you travel abroad, choose a plan that offers travel abroad coverage.
  - This is EMERGENCY coverage only; also has separate deductible.
- Don’t forget you may still need to purchase a separate part D plan.
- Ask specific questions about pre-existing condition limits/periods.

MEDICARE ADVANTAGE PLANS

What’s the Advantage?
Medicare Advantage Plans

- Also referred to as Medicare Part C.
- Offered and managed by private insurance providers/companies.
- Required to offer the same amount of coverage as traditional Medicare.
- Most also offer additional services like vision, dental, wellness programs, gym memberships, transportation to medical appointments and Part D (prescription) coverage.
- These plans are permitted to assess different out of pocket charges (copayments/coinsurance) than traditional Medicare.
  - Sometimes these are more: example specialist office visits.
  - Sometimes these are less: example premiums/deductibles.

Medicare Advantage Plans

- These plans usually require the individual to choose a primary care physician.
- These plans often require referrals for specialty care.
- These plans may have capitated labs/radiology providers.
- Medicare Advantage Plans have a MOOP---typically $6700---annually.
- You CAN join some Medicare Advantage plans if you are under 65 and eligible for Medicare due to a disability.
Medicare Advantage Pros/Cons

PROS

• One company managing ALL insurance claims usually including Part D
• Potential added benefits like vision, dental, gym memberships
• Generally no pre-existing condition clauses
• Low cost premiums

CONS

• Many plans work like traditional HMO’s with networks providers
  • Your current healthcare providers may not be “in network”
• Plans are annual contracts
  • Benefits may change annually
• You cannot purchase a gap plan
  • And you still have a gap; that $6700 MOOP. You pay 20% of all costs until you reach the MOOP EVERY YEAR!
  • Thus, your out of pocket may be higher than with traditional Medicare and supplemental coverage

What if I Don’t Like My Medicare Advantage Plan?

• It’s is hard to get out of one once you are in it.
  • You can change from one Medicare Advantage plan to another during regular open enrollment.
  • However, if it is during your first 12 months in the plan (trial period) you can disenroll at any time.

• Medicare Advantage Disenrollment Period
  • Occurs annually from January 1 to February 14.
  • When you can drop your plan and revert to traditional Medicare.
  • You cannot switch to another Medicare Advantage plan during this time.
  • However, you have now missed open enrollment for a gap/supplemental plan for the entire year.
    • Leaving you responsible for 20% of your healthcare costs for the remainder of the year.
    • Or, having to pay a higher premium for a gap plan because you purchased outside of open enrollment.
Medicare Part D

- Began January 1, 2006

- Prescription drug coverage
  - Does not offer 100% coverage for prescription medications, but can substantially reduce the cost of prescription medication.

- There are rules for WHEN you can (and should) enroll in Medicare Part D.
  - Initial enrollment period – most cost effective.
  - Open Enrollment – subject to late enrollment penalty.
  - Penalties for late enrollment are significant!
Medicare Part D-Looking at the Plans

• Types of plans
  • PDP’s – prescription drug plans.
  • MA-PD’s- Medicare Advantage prescription drug plans.

• Formularies and Tiers
  • Part D plans are not required to cover all Part D drugs.
  • However, they must include categories and classes of drugs that cover all disease states.
  • Certain classes of drugs must be covered by all plans (anti-cancer, anti-psychotic, anti-convulsant, anti-depressants, anti-psychotic, immuno-suppressant and HIV meds).

Example of Drug Prices for MA-PD drug plan in Pennsylvania

Formulary Example
Rules and Regulations

• Part D plans can restrict certain formulary drugs in order to contain costs
  ◆ Prior authorization
    ◆ Before the plan will cover a particular drug, your doctor or other prescriber must first show the plan it's medically necessary for you to have that particular drug. Plans also do this to be sure these drugs are used correctly.
  ◆ Quantity Limits
    ◆ For safety and cost reasons, plans may limit the amount of drugs they cover over a certain period of time.
    ◆ Often used with narcotics and high cost medications.
  ◆ Step Therapy
    ◆ In most cases, you must first try a certain less-expensive drug on the plan’s formularies (drug list) that’s been proven effective for most people with your condition before you can move up a "step" to a more expensive drug.
    ◆ Often used with anti-emetics, pain medications, PPI's.

What Medications are Not Covered by Part D?

• Over the counter drugs
• Drugs for weight loss or gain, including nutritional supplements
• Cough and cold preparations
• Fertility drugs
• Erectile dysfunction drugs (unless medically necessary AND approved by the FDS to treat conditions other than sexual/erectile dysfunction)
