OncoLink Editorial Policy
All materials created by OncoLink are educational and non-promotional in nature and are prepared, designed and executed in accordance with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration Guidance on Industry-Supported Scientific and Educational Activities ("Policy Statement"). The OncoLink Editorial Staff creates this content independently and without control or influence by our sponsors over the materials. We are committed to educating the public while keeping our content free of commercial bias for or against any product; our sponsors may not require OncoLink or the Abramson Cancer Center of the University of Pennsylvania to accept advice or services concerning speakers, authors, participants or other education matters, including content; OncoLink will make meaningful disclosure of each sponsor's support of the program with banner and text placements as appropriate. Likewise, our licensees will make meaningful disclosure of OncoLink's authorship with banner or text placements as appropriate. The OncoLink Editorial Team will ensure that any product discussions in the content will be objective, balanced and scientifically rigorous. This includes a balanced discussion of the product and of treatment alternatives, limitations on data will be disclosed, and unapproved uses will be identified as such. All funding will be used for educational content creation purposes only.
